Japan-U.S. Science, Technology & Space Applications Program (JUSTSAP)
17th Annual Symposium

November 11-15, 2007
Waikoloa Beach Marriott Resort
Kohala Coast, Big Island of Hawai'i

A Message from the Chairman:

I am very pleased to announce the 17th Annual JUSTSAP Symposium will be held from November 11-15 at the Waikoloa Beach Marriott Resort on the "Big Island of Hawai'i". This website contains information on registration, lodging, travel and the conference program, including an optional trip (preceding the symposium) to potential field sites for Hawai'i's Pacific International Space Center for Exploration Systems (PISCES), live robotic demonstrations conducted by NASA Ames Research Center (supporting future missions to the moon), and a tour of the Mauna Kea Observatories.

Themed "Expanding International Collaboration for Space Exploration", this year's symposium will focus on formulating public-private partnerships to catalyze the development and implementation of innovative projects that will support future space exploration and earth observation missions. Five main areas are targeted for discussion, including (1) PISCES, (2) commercial opportunities for the International Space Station (ISS), (3) the development of space-based (solar) power systems, and (4) the design and promotion of advanced satellites for communications and earth observation (to monitor global climate change) and (5) robotic precursor missions to our moon and Mars.

The conference will provide a unique opportunity for leading industry executives, government officials, NGO representatives, researchers, and educators to network and initiate collaborative programs, both public and commercial, in areas of strategic importance to NASA, JAXA, and other space-related agencies and institutions worldwide. We invite you to join us and engage in one or more of our project teams to bring these promising programs to fruition.

Our JUSTSAP Secretariat would be happy to provide additional information on JUSTSAP and our upcoming symposium, and may be reached in Honolulu at (808) 586-2388 or via e-mail at jcrisafu@dbedt.hawaii.gov.

With much Aloha,

Stephen Day

ARRIVAL INTO HAWAII: (Via O'ahu – Honolulu)

For many conferees, your initial destination will be Honolulu, Hawaii. Upon arrival in Honolulu, you will need to proceed to the Inter-Island terminal where you will transfer to the local inter-island air carrier for your short 40 minute trip to Kona.

Please leave at least 2 hours between flight arrival in Honolulu and flight departure to the Big Island. You will need sufficient time to transfer to the inter-island terminal and for the additional security required at the airport.

WIKI WIKI SHUTTLE

Transportation between the main and inter-island terminals is available at no cost for all travelers. Exit the main terminal and wait outside at one of the several WIKI-WIKI SHUTTLE Bus stops. Shuttles arrive approximately every fifteen minutes and go to the inter-island terminal that services our local island air carriers.

INTERNATIONAL PARTICIPANTS:

International conferees must go through customs and immigration at the main terminal. Travelers are advised to allow at least 3 hours for customs/immigration processing and transfer time between the main terminal and the inter-island terminal.

VISA ARRANGEMENTS:

A valid passport is necessary to enter the United States of America. Due to international agreements, some countries also require a visa to be issued to legalize the situation, on a reciprocal basis. All international participants and travelers should verify the specific requirements with foreign affairs authorities in their country, or with US consulates.

HAWAII'S BIG ISLAND

Hawai'i's Big Island is a land of spectacular contrasts. In a little over 4,000 square miles are tropical forests, sandy beaches, one of world's tallest mountains and the active Kilauea Volcano.

LINKS

The screenshot shows the homepage of the University of Hawaii Hilo website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for MyUH, Library, Athletics, Directory, A-Z Index, and a Search box. Below this is a red header with the University of Hawaii Hilo logo and navigation links for Admissions, Academics, News & Events, Student Life, and Catalogs. The main content area features a large banner with the text "Aloha and Welcome to UH Hilo!" and a list of links for Prospective Students, Current Students, Faculty & Staff, Alumni & Friends, Parents & Visitors, and Athletics. The banner also includes the text "Personal Settings ... Broader Horizons" and a photograph of a student holding a surfboard. At the bottom of the banner, it says "Student getting ready for a surfing adventure."
